

SIX RUNWAY FASHION TO HOME FASHION TRENDS FOR 2016

Home fashion has long been influenced by style and color trends spotted at the world's most famous fashion shows from New York to Milan to Paris and Tokyo. This year, some of the biggest trends crossing over from the 2015 and 2016 couture collections to home include: the elegant use of the "X" form factor, haute couture's embrace of luxe furs, homage to modern and classical art forms, and candy-based colors such as orange, yellow and mint.

CONTRIBUTED BY: CARMEN M. NATSCHKE

Carmen Maria Natschke is a new media entrepreneur, freelance writer, speaker and the founder of the internationally acclaimed blog, The Decorating Diva. Her passion for design has her traveling the globe as a lifestyle and design expert that shares her love of art, architecture, design, and trends.

Prabal Gurning Dress

FOUR

YELLOW COLOR TREND

It's a bright, happy, and joyful primary hue, so it comes as no surprise that the color yellow is dominating fashion and home fashion. Here yellow can be seen in its many gorgeous incarnations ranging from pale pastel yellows as illustrated by the "Impero" china from Richard Ginori 1735 to buttery yellows like the Art Deco inspired decorative pillow, "Elsie" from Cotton and Quill.

YELLOW COLOR TREND

Cotton and Quill's "Elsie"
Decorative Pillow in
"Melrose" Color

"Impero" - Cartiglio Citrino -
Richard Ginori 1735

"Stella" Upholstered
Screen by Tobi
Fairley for CR Laine

7412-50
Upholstered
Chair-Huntington
House Furniture

Concert Hall by Lees
Studio 1846

Marietta Webb Dress